The Third-Party Agent Problem: Why Security Built for AI You Chose Misses the Agents You Didn't

Source: The Hacker News

> In environments studied for the 2026 State of Agent Security Report, roughly 1,280 third-party products now embed AI. About 282 of them sit behind single sign-on. The other thousand are invisible to identity infrastructure by default, not because anyone hid them, but because an identity stack can on...
